INTRODUCING FOR 1942

CHAUTAUQUA GIANT

We believe this dahlia will prove to be the very last word in autumn formals. Its consistent perfection of form, clear, beautiful color and fine, long stem—12 inches to the first leaf—together with its massiveness, makes it a natural as a show table winner. The blooms grow without forcing 10-12 inches and readily respond to special treatment. Depth is about half the diameter. In color it is a soft golden orange, very clear and pleasing. In form, we do not see how a formal decorative could be more nearly perfect. For us, centers are always tightly closed; even at the end of the season and when the blooms are fully opened. No other dahlia in our gardens has the massive appearance of this dahlia. The bush grows normally 4-4½ feet high with spreading, vigorous growth. Foliage is dark and of good substance with rather wide leaves. Insects leave it alone. The blooms are held facing, are of fine substance and last a long time when cut. It begins to bloom in mid-season. The clumps are large and always winter in perfect condition.

On Mr. Roberts selection in the Flower Grower Honor Roll.

MRS. THOMAS A. EDISON

Brilliant, flashing, velvety color. Alone, its color would make this dahlia outstanding. It also has all other desirable characteristics one wishes a dahlia to have. It is a truly gorgeous shade of bright violet red, almost a deep rose red. The reverse is shaded silver, which shows where the outer petals twist and curl and in the high center. Informal decorative.

The blooms have a normal diameter of 10-12 inches with a depth nearly equal to the width. Strong, straight stems hold the flowers facing, well above the foliage. A husky grower, the bushes are well branched and attain a height of 4½-5 feet.

One of the most beautiful dahlias of all time. Certificate of Merit at East Lansing.

On Dudley's and Eddy's selection in the Flower Grower Honor Roll and in the House Beautiful Futurity.

Stock very limited, only a few roots for sale.
